

Pandemic Round Table Summary

This informative discussion between panel experts and the audience will primarily focus on the challenges associated with developing Pandemic Contingency Plans and how to get key persons in your organization on board. It's important that companies, government agencies and public health organizations speak the same language when preparing for a possible pandemic. Companies will discuss complex issues such as the possibility of facing a 30% absentee rate among workers. Other critical topics for discussion will be: employee communication and education, work from home policies, anti viral medication management, travel policies, employee health screening, infection control measures and much more. Be sure to attend this roundtable session. This is a rare opportunity to get the answers to the questions you have!!
